

Goodbye Babe

I think the time is here, so fare thee well my dear
Demand good and do good on your way

Where ever you go now, what ever you do
Remember good thoughts will give a good life to you

You are such a good girl, and it's a pretty tough world
But follow your feeling, and you will be fine

You'll get some bumps ill guess, you'll give some to Just trust your hart, and you'll know what to do

Remember to laugh now,
Don't forget to cry,
Goodbye babe, good bye, bye

Be just and fair now, some time it's hard to se things clear
The only thing you have to fear is your own fear

Keep away from bad influence, by just using you natural sense
Smile your sunny smile and it will smile back to you

Go on do what you do now and do it good
If you wont stand where you stand some one else probably would

And be true to your self, its not about who loose ore win
And remember that envy is a cancer from within

What ever you do now
Do it true
Good bye babe, good bye to you

To day the sky is blue, tomorrow it could be grey
Ether or you have to go down your way

So go with your intuition, with your inner vision
Nobody else can tell you what is your special mission

As long as you're satisfied now and happy with your self
